Value-Added Resellers

Our Value-Added Resellers enhance their personalization and customer marketing offerings by using Relay to serve a timely pain point for their clients: connecting with and driving customers to action.

System Integrators

Relay System Integrators leverage Relay as the martech endpoint that talks to all of their clients' customer data platforms and provides them with the highest reach, conversions, and action rates on their content.

Consultants

Leading consultancies advise using Relay for clients in need of a solution that helps them reach more customers, land more content, and drive more conversions than with their apps, portals, and email campaigns.
